

DISCLAIMER WEBSITE

Allways Transport BV beholds the right to make changes in the conditions on how the website is offered, without any notice. The changes will be of use directly after display of certain items on the website.

Allways Transport BV does not accept any responsibility for direct or indirect damage that may occur by using of, trusting on or acting to the information on the website, unless in the case of deliberate action of similar wrong intentions.

This website plus its contents is protected by author's rights and other intellectual property rights. Except for personal and non-commercial use no items of this website nor its contents are to be multiplied, saved or to be made public, without prior notice and permission of Allways Transport BV.

These conditions, as well as any issues or claims that are products of or are in direct relation to the conditions, are applicable on Dutch law only. Such issues and claims will be, if necessary, placed under justice of the local Ministry of Justice. Our intellectual ownership is being protected through laws of brand and author / copyright.

Insurance will be covered upon written order only. All transactions, services and activities are subject to the General Conditions for BZE Forwarding Agents as registered with the District Court of Rotterdam on Januari, 7, 2003.
